

SOMFY is world reference in Home Motion and a legitimate player in environmental comfort

Somfy Group is world leader in motors and controls for openings and closures of homes and buildings. From the beginning, the Group has been concerned about the environment and has conducted a strategy targeting user's needs for comfort, security and energy savings.

Thus Somfy concentrates and coordinates all their technology and activities around the conception of complete automated solutions in order to improve and optimize visual comfort, security and economic balance in residential and office buildings.

Somfy's teams work closely with scientific research centers the world over. They participate actively in the elaboration of professional standards in many countries and are involved in the EPBD (Energy Performance of Buildings Directive) with the European Union and also in the Green Building actions in Korea and the United States.

Their main field of action is residential closures (roller shutters, garage doors and gates), solar protection (awnings) and interior decoration (curtains, blinds).

Privileging geographical expansion, Somfy Group is present in 51 countries through a network of 52 subsidiaries and 26 offices on all 5 continents.
