

10 May 2007

NEW YORK: A Swiss-built solar vessel arrived in New York yesterday on what the group behind it said was the first sun-powered voyage across the Atlantic. The catamaran "sun21" reached North Cove Marina after a journey of six months and about 13,000km from Chipiona, Spain, the Switzerland-based group transatlantic21 said.

World

Round the World in Eighty Seconds

MATP

1 - State

23

English

Copyright 2007 News Ltd. All Rights Reserved